Harri Korhonen

Naku tables are crafted from solid wood, featuring a simple, unembellished design that highlights the elegance of natural materials and expert craftsmanship. Their clean lines and straightforward style create an authentic aesthetic, making them a versatile choice for a wide range of environments. This combination of functionality and quality craftsmanship makes them suitable for both private and public spaces.

Inno offsets the use of wood in this and other wooden products by participating in afforestation projects that help mitigate the effects of climate change.
